Binger Filmlab, Amsterdam, opened its doors in 1996 as a post-academic training center for film professionals and has matured into a challenging and unique film lab with intensive programs that focus on the development of projects and individual talents that create them. In the first 10-year trajectory, Binger has discovered its natural allies in its work of supporting the brightest emerging talents; the Sundance institute and its Labs in the US, the Nipkow programme residencies in Berlin, Paris' Cinéfondation Residence (Cannes International Film Festival) and now with NFDC's Film Bazaar in India.

NFDC - Binger Screenwriters' Lab believes in challenging filmmakers to look at many choices available and recognize the wide array of possibilities that are inherent in their stories and lie within their vision of the film.
